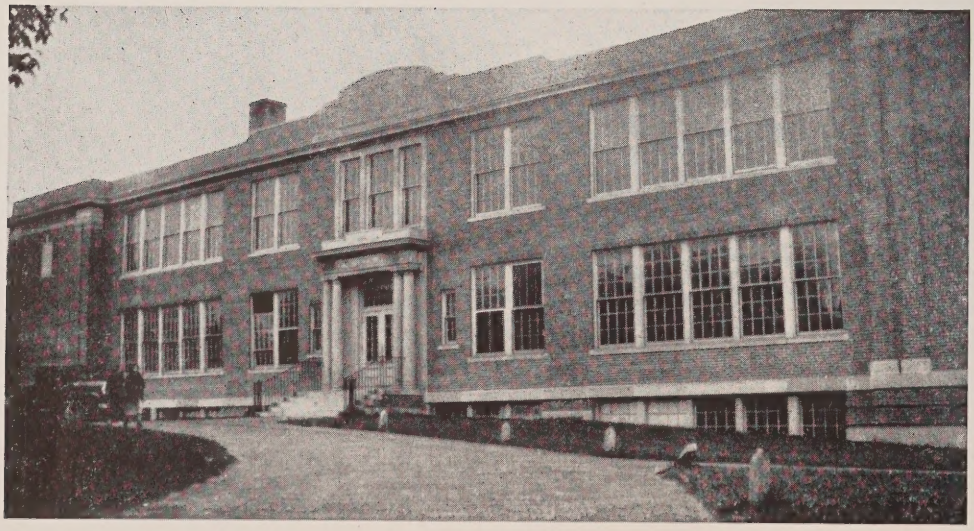
THE OLD BOSTON LATIN SCHOOL



MAJOR HOWARD W. BEALS HIGH SCHOOL

300TH ANNIVERSARY OF HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION IN AMERICA

There is an ancient English manuscript
Upon whose yellowed annals, scrolled
In delicate and faded tracery,
The story of a tree is told.

In its first youth it sprang, not from the seed,
But from the Druid's burnished blade,
Hilt-deep in blood upon the altar where
The Stonehenge sacrifice was made.

In later decades it received the name,
"The Tree of Knowledge," which, though its roots
Were planted deep in pagan pagentries,
Had yielded strange phophetic fruits.

Some say, or so the ancient story goes
That Pegasus, in wandering through the lands,
Had taken seedlings to America, to where
The Boston Latin School now stands.

But others think that when the Pilgrims came
And brought a bough of Stonehenge thorn,
The first schoolhouse was fashioned from its wood
And public education saw its dawn.

Three hundred years ago, an unknown penman
Visualized a coming unknown age.
He had a story of a tree, a message that
Was etched upon a fading page.

But those who've studied histories of schools
Know they were founded not in this romantic way,
But rather as a means to meet religious needs,
Which were the most important subjects of the day.

On April twenty-third, in sixteen thirty-five,
A Massachusetts' secondary grammar rose
To start the growth of forty similar schools
Before the century neared its closed.

To raise funds to support academies
The New York Regents set aside
Bequests, tuition, legacies,
Taxation, and some private benefactions tried.

The simple aim the founders had in mind
Was to prepare each boy and girl
"For the great end and business"
Of finding a true place in the world.

The broadness of academy curricula
A higher student standard could secure
Including as it did all sciences,
Religion, language, literature.

In eighteen-twenty-four, the English Classical
Adopted a new name and rule
Which made superior its training, and Proclaimed it as the first High School.

The privilege was later given to the towns
To build the type of schoolhouse most desired
Till eighteen-fifty-nine, when legal status was Allotted them, and sanction of their State required.

The Case of Kalamazoo in eighteen-seventy-two Removed the obstacle that most
Deterred the growth of public schools
Of which America alone could boast.

In eighteen-ninety came the termination of
The long and bitter fight to make schools free
To make them part of social life
And symbols of American Democracy.

To those who know the ceaseless struggle and the strife
Of pioneers who tried to "carry on"
The legend of the High School's rise thrills just
As though it sprang from roots of Stonehenge thorn.

For through the course of years the hand of Time
Has made an image from a shapeless clay
And moulded from the first crude elementary school
The mighty system of today.

ERIC BERTIL ANDERSON
"Ickky"

"It takes a small man to do a man-sized job."

A. A. 1, 2, 3	Type Contest 4	Junior Prom 3
Basketball 2, 3, 4	Baseball 2, 3, 4	"Sunny Skies" 4
Football 3, 4	Shomty 3, 4

"Ickky" is just the kind of a fellow everyone likes; for whenever he is seen, there is always a smile enhancing his countenance. "Ickky" is an all-around sport and a real pal, in class as well as outside. He has a winning way about him that makes him popular not only with the fellows, but with the feminine population as well.

"Ickky" is one of our best athletes and has proven to people that size isn't everything. A small but mighty man is he.

Although Eric hasn't decided definitely whether he will pursue the art of horticulture or not, we have an idea that he will. Well, best wishes in everything, "Ickky"!

ALBERT J. ASTRELLA
"Al"

"And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover."

Student Council 4	Vice-President, Shomty 4	Shorthand Contest 3
Shomty 3, 4	Baseball 3, 4	Senior Play Committee 4
	Type Contest 2, 3, 4

"Al" may be one of the smallest boys in the class, but he ranks high in mischief-making. He is an outstanding typist, having represented the High School in the County Contest for three years. He has shown his capability in athletics on the baseball diamond.

Lots of luck to you in the future, "Al," and may you be successful in whatever you attempt.

NORMAN A. BATES
"Norm"

"On the athletic field he does excel,
And still the mark he hits so well;
His aim in life? Ah, who can tell?"

Baseball 3, 4	Basketball 3, 4	Junior Prom Committee 3
Football 3, 4	"Love Pirates of Hawaii" 3	Shomty 3, 4

"Norm" was judged the best athlete in the class and this is correct without a doubt. Although he came to this school in his Junior year, he has quickly fitted in as a very popular member of the class. We all wish him the best of luck at New York University and we will always remember him as a shining light on the diamond, the gridiron, and on the basketball court.

MILDRED E. BEAUREGARD
"Millie"

"Quietness shall be my strength."

Glee Club 1, 2, 3	Senior Play Committee 4
A. A. 2, 3, 4	Shomty 3, 4

Until you know "Millie" she seems quiet (if any of the Seniors may be called quiet), but she has a great many friends outside of school.

Mildred has been very successful with the Commercial course and intends to take up hair dressing. From her experience so far as a beautican we are sure that 'Millie" will become very successful in this field. Good Luck!

SHIRLEY G. BOYCE

"Billy"

"If friends be credit she has much gain."

Shomty 3, 4 Glee Club 1, 2 A. A. A. 1, 2, 3

Shirley is one of the quiet girls of the Senior Class. She is a friend to all and we hope that she will succeed in anything she may attempt in the future. She has not decided as to her future, but with her determination we have no doubt of her success.

MARY JEAN BRESLIN

"Jeanie"

"A cheerful heart maketh a cheerful countenance."

A. A. 1, 2, 3, 4 Shomty 2, 3, 4

Although Jean has not been with us throughout all our high school years, she has come to be one of the most popular girls of the class. Her cheerful countenance has played an important part in making our Senior Year happy and successful for everyone. Here's to the best of luck and success for you always, Jean!

MARGARET CHRISTIE

"Music separates us from the wind and sea, yet leaves us in them."

Love Pirates of Hawaii 3 Junior Prom Committee 3 Sophomore Hop Committee 2
Glee Club 2, 3, 4 Shomty 3, 4 Cap and Gown Committee 4
Athletic Association 3

Margaret is a talented singer, as we have seen at our Senior Play and also at the Holden Speaking Contest. Her clear ways of thinking and reasoning have made her respected and loved by everyone.

Margaret is planning to continue singing throughout the coming years. We know her understanding, pleasing personality will carry her far and wide.

MYRTLE COUGHLIN

"Myrt"

"Quiet but hopeful."

Shomty 3, 4 Type Contest 4 A. A. 2, 3
Shorthand Contest 3, 4

Much success is due to Myrtle, as she has spent considerable time and used much effort in her three years at Shrewsbury High.

Although little is heard from "Myrt," her outstanding work in the commercial department has made her very popular and has led her to Fairchild's Business College. We all wish her the best of luck!

ANNE M. D'AGOSTINO

"ANNE"

"Speech is Silver"

Glee Club 2		Minstrel Show 1
Hockey 2, 4	Typewriting Contest 2, 4	Concert 1
A. A. 2, 3, 4	Shomty Club 3, 4	Basketball 3

Whenever you hear a loud noise around the vicinity of Room 9, look for Anne, for often you'll find her in the midst of it. Nevertheless, Anne has other accomplishments—yes, indeed—for she is a demon at the typewriter and at shorthand. She has earned a name for herself at the Annual Contests and has brought back honors for Shrewsbury High School. She has been a big help on the athletic field, too. Although one might not detect her from afar, as she isn't very big, Anne thinks she would like to be a reporter and we think she'd make a fine one. Best o' luck!

LILLIAN C. DAYS

"LILY"

"A comrade blithe and full of glee."

Glee Club 1	Minstrel Show 1	Shomty 3, 4
Basketball 1	Hockey 1, 3, 4	A. A. A. 1, 3
	Type Contest 3

"Lily" came from the Coolidge Junior High. Her cheerful disposition and never-failing humor made her an integral part of our class as well as did her athletic ability.

"Lily" elected the commercial course with a private secretarial position as her objective. Miss Daley can testify to her indispensable aid for "Lil" was always doing jobs for someone.

May success and good fortune ever fall in your path, "Lily."

MARJORIE E. DUKE

"DUKIE"

"Most welcome are those who bring sunshine into the people's lives."

Glee Club 1, 4	A. A. 3	Sunny Skies 4
Shomty 3, 4	Class Trip Committee 4	French Club 3
	Christmas Card Committee 4

"Dukie" would rather do everything well than be extraordinary in any capacity; hence, her versatility. She dances—skiis—cooks? and though one of our tiniest, she is one of our most active.

RUTH EATON

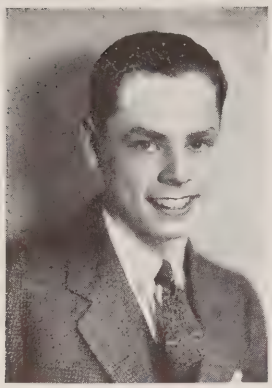
"RUTHIE"

"Manners are not idle, but the fruit
Of loyal nature and of noble mind."

Commencement Committee 4	Grubs 4

Ruth's radiating personality has gained for her many friends at Shrewsbury High and she is one of the sweetest ladies in the class. Her smile easily catches one's eye and cheers one up. Her brilliancy is unexcelled.

Ruth expects to attend State Teacher's College in Worcester next fall to learn how they try to teach high school students. We are sure of her future success and wish her the best of luck and happiness in life. Good Luck, Ruth!



GEORGE MONTAGUE ERWIN

"ELMER"

"He used to be bashful and shy; but now he's a dangerous guy."

Football 3, 4	Commencement Committee 4	Grubs 4
Basketball 4	"Elmer" 2	Sophomore Hop 2
Vice-President 3	"Hook-up"	Memorial Day Exercises 3

Traffic Squad 1, 2, 3, 4	Year Book 4	Science Club 1
Senior Play Property Committee 4	Thanksgiving Day Exercise 4

George is one of the most popular and outstanding members of the senior class. Besides having high marks in his studies he has also been prominent on the athletic field. His great work at right end on the football team will never be forgotten. He is also well adapted to speaking and acting as shown by his wonderful portrayal of "Elmer" in "Sunny Skies." George is quite popular with the girls and his regular between-period strolls through the corridors with a certain senior lass are almost as famous as his athletic and acting ability. He is the life of the class and never has a serious moment. We know he will succeed in everything he does.

MARY ROSE FARRINGTON

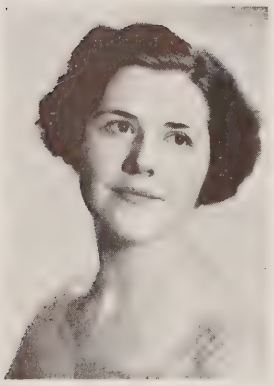
"TOMMY"

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

Shomty 3, 4	Grubs 4	Green and White News 3
Glee Club 1, 2	Chautaqua 2	Athletic Association 1, 2

In spite of the fact that Mary is gifted with a very studious mind, she is fun-loving and appreciative of the humorous side of life.

Mary has proven herself a very helpful member to her class. Her affctionate and helpful nature makes her company a pleasure to her friends, who all join in wishing her success upon entering Herrick's Business College in the fall.



JEAN FLETCHER

"GRACIE"

"Her air, her manners; all who saw admired:
Courteous, though coy; gentle, though retired."

Senior Play 4	Shomty 4	Junior Prom 3

"Elmer" 3	Glee Club 1, 4	Science Club 1
Speaking Contest 3	Grubs 4

Jean is one of the loquacious members of our class—especially when it comes to graveyard stories. She proved to be a valuable asset to the class for her dramatic and artistic ability, taking a difficult part in the senior production, "The Call of the Banshee."

"Gracie" is planning to become a designer, after completing her course at Stetson University in Florida. We know she will succeed because of her winning personality and outstanding artistic ability.

We hope to hear great things about her in the future.

"Chautauqua" 2	Poster Contest Winner 2, 3, 4	Stage Manager, Senior Play 4

Grace has been our class president this year and has made a good job of it. With her ambition and hard work, she should go a long way on the road to success.

Art has been Grace's choice for the future. Good luck with your little brush!

DOROTHEA M. GREENWOOD
"Dottie"

"Silence is golden."

Shomty 3, 4

None of us know "Dottie" very well—but the little we do know is wholly to her credit. Without a doubt she is the quietest member of our class and claims the distinction of being the only one who never had to stay after school for discipline.

With "Dottie's" determination she is sure to succeed, and we all wish her the best of luck!

MICHAEL L. GIOFREDA

"Mike" is one of the most popular members of the class. Throughout his high school career he has been most prominent in athletics. His fine pitching arm and backfield running will long be remembered by the members of the class. Besides this, he has also been a great aid in the various class activities. We all wish "Mike" the best of success in whatever he does.

JOSEPH A. GUIMENTARO
"Willie"

"He is wise who makes friend from foe."

Football 2, 3, 4	Operetta 4	Class Day Committee 4
Baseball 2, 3, 4	Traffic Squad 2, 3, 4	Shomty 3, 4
	Junior Prom Committee 3

Joe came from Coolidge School in his Sophomore year. His keen personality and ability to play football won him many friendships with the girls as well as the boys.

Whenever Joe strolls past the fair sex there is sure to be many heartbeats. S. H. S. will surely feel the loss of this great athlete.

Joe's plans for the future are yet to be determined, but whatever road he chooses we know it will lead toward success.

MARIAN V. GUSTAFSON
"Gussie"

Glee Club 2	Senior Whist Committee 4	Class Day Committee 4
	Shorthand Contest 3, 4

"Gussie," as most of us know her, came to Shrewsbury High School in her Sophomore year. If anyone has ever fit in and made a success of her school career, it certainly has been "Gussie." She is a very versatile type of person, having participated in all kinds of class and school functions.

Besides being one of the most popular girls in the class, she is also one of the most brilliant, which charactertistic will take her far in life.

Success and happiness to you, Marion.

We all wish her the best of luck and success!

Marian has been with the class since it made its memorable start through the long years, way back in the first grade. She is very popular with everyone. Her stupendous giggle would even cheer old man gloom right up. We all wish her the best of luck at Framingham State Teacher's College next year, and we know she'll come through with flying colors.

FREDERICK S. HASKELL

"Fred"

"The day is short; the work is much."

Model Airplane Club 4	Shomty 3, 4

"Fred" is a quiet member of the class, being about the only quiet boy. Although slow in doing problems, there are none that he cannot finally do. He is very air-minded and is clever at making model airplanes.

"Fred" has not decided what he will do next year, but whatever he does he'll make the grade and we all wish him luck.

"Don" is going to Springfield College when he graduates and we hope he will have lots of luck as a coach. He came to us in the Junior year and has been very popular ever since. We all wish you success and luck, Don. If you can teach football as well as you can play it yourself, there will be no question of your success.

"Frankness is a charm in itself, which magnifies the world."

Science Club 1	Shomty 3, 4	Sophomore Hop Committee 2
Glee Club 1	Junior Prom Committee 3	Grubs 4

"Herb" is one of the best natured fellows in the class. Everyone thinks highly of him. This light haired boy possesses the very good quality of being willing to help. No matter what he is doing, he is willing to lend a helping hand to anyone who may need it.

Right now, he wishes to work for a while before continuing his education in some college. We are all sure that he will be an asset in any institution he may enroll in.

She has one great ambition, that is playing the piano, which she has now mastered. She greets everyone with a smile and is of the friendly type. She starred during the hockey season and has obtained two letters. With her cheerfulness and ambition we know that she will be a great success.

VIRGINIA B. HUGHES
"GINNA"

Winner in Poster Contest 4 Grubs 4

Virginia came into our midst last September and has been welcomed by our class. She is a zealous student and an ardent poetess. She has written much poetry and has done much for the "Grubs." Football 1, 2	Sophomore Hop 2	Freshman Trip 1
Basketball Manager 2		Glee Club 1

"Bill" is that irresistable romantic type about whom all the girls rave. But this didn't do them any good, because "Billie" preferred the one and only.

Due to illness, he left school when a Sophomore and joined our class again in the last year.

"Bill" is undecided as to what he intends to do after graduation, but whatever it is, we wish him the best of success.

Junior Prom Committee 3 — A. A. 1, 2, 3 — Senior Play Committee 4

John is a happy-go-lucky sort of chap. He has a smile for everyone that is as welcome as a day in May. He is the class "workman," but bears the strain very well. Let's hope "Red" will always be as helpful to others as he has been to the class.

MARY LORITO
"Mae"

Shomty 4 A. A. 2, 3

"Mae" is one of the quietest girls in our class, but can always be depended upon to do her part. Her daily motto is "Be prepared." She has never come to school without having her work finished. Glee Club 1 Senior Play 4 Commencement Committee 4
Student Council 1 Grubs 4 Type Contest 4

We expect to hear great things from Olive, who in her high school course has proven her capability and excellence in every undertaking. During her whole four years she has missed but one day of school, and has been on the Honor Roll every time.

Good luck, Olive! Success at the Teacher's College, but when you are a Latin teacher don't expect all the pupils to excel the way you did.

DONALD L. MANSFIELD
"Don"

"All good things come in small packages."

The Athletic Association and Shomty Club has had him for a member for some time. The Science Club certainly could not get along without "Don." His ability as an actor was demonstrated in the Senior Play. Aside from school activities Donald has in his possession a generous knowledge of aeronautics. He has not decided what the future holds in store for him, but here's hoping that he'll make it a success.

George was elected the most popular boy in the class and he certainly lives up to the moniker. He was not only elected the most popular but also the most versatile. To this superlative he also lives up to for when one does not see him on the field of athletics he is pouring over his studies. The character he portrayed in the Senior Play may sometime be equaled but never surpassed. As for his school work he stands highest in the class of boys and his ability to do mathematical problems would even make the great mathematician Euclid envious.

CLASS HISTORY

Graduation! The goal of every ambitious High School student has arrived. When we look back, it seems just a short time ago when we were freshmen. Unsophiscated? Yes, but eager to go forward. Under the carefull supervision of Mr. Lind, we made the Study Hall our home for one long, glorious year. Our activities as freshmen were not numerous, consisting of a social and a class picnic, but they were successful — which was really all that counted.

It was soon time for us to assume a little more dignity and become sophomores, which we did, with the help of many students coming up from the Calvin Coolidge School. It took the joint efforts of Miss Sawin, Miss Croak, and Mrs. Schaffer to keep us from roaming the corridors and getting into mischief. The athletic ability shown by George Pescaro, Joe Guimentaro, Mike Scirpoli, as well as Peggy Martin, Helen Lecoeurve, Eloise O'Brien, and many others, proved to many indifferent people that We, the Class of '35, were really a progressive group, not to be frowned upon and call "those youngsters."

As juniors we again found ourselves abiding in the Study Hall under the care of Mr. Potts and Mr. Bower. Svea Holm, Pearl Kenworthy, Myrtle Coghlin, and Marion Gustafson carried off prizes in the Typewriting and Shorthand Contest at Becker College, which made us all feel that the world could never go on without us. Next, we were all delighted by the manner in which Virginia Seager, Charlotte Mitchell, and George Powers carried off prizes in the annual Junior Speaking Contest, which showed that our class possessed oratorical, as well as other talents. At last, putting all our other cares aside, we began to look forward with almost breathless expectation to "The Event" of the year—the Junior Prom and Senior Reception. The success of the Prom and the Reception gave us the courage to face the responsibility of becoming seniors.

Now we credit ourselves with the title, "Dignified Seniors." Last Fall our attention was centered, for the most part, on athletics. The successful production of our senior play, "The Call of the Banshee," helped to make the Winter slip by. In addition to the actors, this production was greatly aided by our able stage manager, Grace Forrister, and Robert Lehman and John Lever, the two handy-men of our class. As Spring progressed, we worked with the main desire to win prizes again in the Typewriting and Shorthand Contest. The desire was fulfilled by Myrtle Coghlin, William Sarguinas, Albert Astrella, Anne D'Agostino, and Olive Lutz, all of whom we are very proud. And now, as that has passed, we are finishing the last days of our senior year with a little regret. But, notwithstanding this fact, we are ever looking on to the Unknown—the Future!

LOIS LEHMAN.

CLASS GIFTS

The class of 1935 has shared together four years of happy comradeship. Following the custom of previous years, we, too, are remembering our classmates with suitable gifts. We shall start the list with a gift to our worthy president.

GRACE FORRISTER—To our helpful and capable President we give this ladder to aid her in climbing the mountain of success. We know that you will soon reach the top rung, Grace.

SVEA HOLM—Svea is known to have broken a great many hearts during her high school career. This tube of cement may help to mend some of the damage.

LOIS LEHMAN—Lois has been our faithful secretary for three years. Take this pencil, Lois, perhaps you can use it when you are private secretary to one of the Brain Trust.

ERIC ANDERSON—Ickie's car is most always filled to overflowing with baseball players, teachers, or what have you? We think that perhaps the "Old Buggy" has seen better days so we present him with one of the latest models. Keep off the back roads with this 1935 model, Ickie!

ANNE D'AGOSTINO—From Room 10 at one end of the corridor to Room 16 at the other end; here, there, and everywhere, can be heard the voice of Anne D'Agostino. Here, Anne, take this muffler and be sure that you make use of it.

ALBERT ASTRELLA—We all know that Shorty's fast—at the typewriter—so we give him this watch in order that he may break all former records and bring home the honors.

MARJORIE DUKE—Dukie is noted around here for those irresistible giggles. Take the contents of this little bottle—perhaps it is chloroform—to help you overcome them. Never mind, Dukie, we love you just the same.

GEORGE POWERS—"All the world's a stage" to George. We all remember his outstanding work in the Speaking Contest, Senior Play and the Operetta. In recognition of your remarkable talents, George, we offer you this magnificent loving cup!

JEAN FLETCHER—Jean has always been conscious of her great height. We hope that this can of shortening may be effective, Jean.

JOSEPH GUIMENTARO—We give Joe a compact—all of his own—so that he will not have to borrow one from the girls in Room 16, as was his custom during home room periods.

MARION GUSTAFSON—Gussie thinks that she might join the "Married Women's Association." These boxing gloves may come in handy, you never can tell!

GEORGE ERWIN—Those of you who are at all acquainted with George know of his delicate appetite. In fact, at parties we've just had to stuff the food down his throat to make him eat. We give him these Cod Liver Oil tablets to bolster up that feeble appetite. Perhaps they may recall another incident, George.

MARION HARLOW—Marion plans to study dietetics at Framingham next year. This cook book should be just the thing. Use it as you will, Marion!

HERBERT HJULSTROM—Herbert has his future all planned for him. Won't he look cute wearing this apron when he helps Mary in the kitchen!

MARY FARRINGTON—Of course, Mary must follow Herbie. To complete the domestic picture we present you with this rolling pin, Mary. Possibly it will serve a double purpose.

FRANK JACKSON—We give Jackson this doll in order that he may have some girl who will appreciate this exceptional intellect.

VIRCINIA HUGHES—Virginia has the blushing complex. We hope that this mask will help hide her blushes from the opposite sex.

WILLIAM SARGUINAS—Bill is always ready to lend a helping hand. We are sure that someday he will make a good Woman's Home Companion.

DOROTHY GREENWOOD—Dot is small and silent. We'd like to hear her make some noise for a change. This horn should help to solve the problem.

MILLIARD SMITH—Smitty—alias "Wheaties"—makes up a large part of the class. Here, Smitty, take this package of Wheaties and live up to your name.

MARY MULLEN—This pillow will help solve your sightseeing problems from behind the wheel of the "Lizzie."

WILLIAM SEGUR—Bill made some remarkable discoveries with his borrowed magnifying glass during the Senior Play. In fact, he got so attached to his glass that we thought he might like one of his own.

ELLENOR HOWE—Ellenor has willingly supplied us with her musical talents. We think that she needs a rest. So we give her this music box, to supply music for a change.

WESLEY WARREN—Here, Wes, take this handkerchief to mop that fevered brow after laboring on your cornet.

CONGETTA QUARANTA—"Best things come in small packages." That's what Congetta thinks. Just the same we think that she ought to grow a bit more. Here's a yeast cake, Congetta.

GUSTAF STEINHILBER—A saxaphone—an ill wind that nobody blows good—take this silencer for yours, Gus.

SHIRLEY BOYCE—To Shirley we give this bottle of reducing salts to take off all that excess weight!

WILLIAM KANE—Here, Bill, take this can of "Half-and-half." They say it's a man's best bet for a bride.

HOPE SEVERANCE—To Hope we give this special calendar which will remind her that she must not miss her working days in the business world as often as she did in school.

JOSEPH TYAN—Here, Joe, take this horse. Maybe it will remind you of the round-up days in Geography Class.

ELOISE O'BRIEN—Here is a new pair of rubber lifts to replace those worn out in your long walks to and from school.

JOSEPH LEYDEN—We understnd that Joe has slept through certain classes. This bed should prove more comfortable than a hard chair, Joe.

MARGARET CHRISTIE—Margaret may readily be called our class songster. Here is a canary with which to compete.

CLEMENCE HAYES—"Everybody Happy?" When we hear this we know that Clem is not far away. Here, Clem, take this rattle so that you may always be as happy as you have made us with your cheerfulness.

MYRTLE COUGHLIN—Here, Myrt, take this vase to grace your desk when you are lucky enough to be "Somebody's Stenog."

FRANCIS LABBY—This curling iron should prove of value to Franny when his old one wears out.

DORIS HAMEL—Doris had charge of arranging the graduating class by heights. This tape measure will remind you of the good old high school days, Doris.

LLOYD LUND—Lloyd plans to study agriculture. We will start him off with this package of seeds.

LILY DAYS—Here's a bar of soap to wash the ditto ink from your hands after working in the office.

ROBERT LEHMAN—Bob is very shy. This book on "The Art of Self-Defence" should prove of value to the little shaver.

CARLOTTA JENCKS—Carlotta will further her education at Pembrooke College. We know that she'll be successful; but just to make sure that she won't be lonesome so far from home, we give her this little brown bear for a mascot.

MALCOLM MERRILL—Bud is our class chauffeur. Here, Bud, take this book of Massachusetts State Road Laws home and study them to guarantee our safety in the future.

PEARL KENWORTHY—Pearl's beautiful golden locks are the outstanding feature of her beauty. A comb to keep them in place would not be amiss.

DONALD HENDERSON—Don is our ideal of the perfect masculine figure. He plans to study physical education. Here, Don, take these dumb-bells. They may prove valuable in future life.

MARY LORITO—Here's a book to read while waiting to take dictation from your future employer. That's what I call a soft job.

JOHN LEVER—Johnny can rightfully be called Mr. Carr's right hand man. After using the school's afflicted tools for so long we think that perhaps you might welcome a set of your own.

CATHERINE SHEEHAN—Catherine is one of our quiet seniors, so we give her this bright red ribbon and bell to announce her presence.

GEORGE PESCARO—George has several times been the victim of practical jokers in Geography Class. Take these thumb tacks, George, and seek your revenge.

IRIDA MAZZARI—Irida was president of Shomty this past year. When we recall those Shomty meetings we think that Irida should have had this gavel to bring the meetings to order. Better late than never!

MICHAEL SCHIRPOLI—Mike has been a faithful member of the traffic squad for the past few years. We think that he merits this policeman's badge for his constant service in the struggle for order in the halls.

MATILDA NOWARK—When Tillie graduates she will probably retire to Boylston where she now lives. In order that she will not entirely forget us we give her this telephone to keep in touch with civilization.

DONALD SEYMOUR—Who is the cleverest dancer in our class? Useless question. Seymour, of course. But we think that he should share the honors with this little dancing partner, guaranteed not to tread on your toes. You may learn some new steps from him, Don.

ANN MARKARIAN—Ann is one of those young ladies who has taken up the knitting craze. Here's some knitting needles to keep up the good work, Ann.

MICHAEL GIOFREDA—If Mike continues his brilliant baseball career we feel that this weight will help him hold down the positions he might desire. Good luck, Mike!

Mary Wall—Mary is rarely seen without her daily "cud" of gum. Take this package of rubber gum, Mary, and see if you can wear it out.

Norman Bates—Those of you who have witnessed a school basket-ball game must have noticed Norm's extraordinary jumping. Take this frog, Norm, so that when you are old and gray you will remember your high school days.

Marjorie Hutchinson—We shall always remember Hutch's excellent portaryal of "Hilda" in the Senior Play, "By yumpin' yimminy." Here's a suitcase to use when you "ban tank you go home!"

Selmer Sundquist—We present Sandy with this soapbox for use in the future when he feels oratorically inclined.

Jennie Mignacca—Jennie's favorite pastime is canoeing. Take this canoe, Jennie, and paddle along the rough waters of life to success.

Frederick Haskell—We think that Fred with his quiet ways and has ability to cook should go into housekeeping for himself. This bachelor's license should be in keeping.

Virginia Seager—Virginia's interests will soon turn toward the navy. Use this spy-glass, Ginny, to watch for the approach of a certain ship. May you be lucky!

Ina Wendela—Ina has the misfortune of being just a few minutes late nearly every morning. This alarm clock when properly set and wound, should enable you to keep your future dates promptly.

Erna Wenz—Erna plans to study floriculture. Use this trowel to plant the seeds of your ambition. May you reap success!

Evelyn May—Everyone seeks the illusive Lady Luck. We can't think of anything more symbolic of good luck than the four leaf clover. Here's one picked in our own school yard.

Marjorie Reichenbacker—Here's a quaint picture holder to frame your favorite movie star or that snap shot of—who knows?

Mildred Beauregard—Here's a box of Pep—(we seem to run to breakfast food). However, rumor has it that you are a shining light outside of school, so perhaps if you don't need it you can pass it on to some less favored friend.

Vera Richards—Perhaps you do not all know it, but Vera has exceptional musical ability. She has played nearly every instrument. Here is one, Vera, that you may have some fun learning to master.

Evelyn Schold—We hope, Evelyn, that your life will be as bright and happy as this toy balloon.

Margaret Martin—Peggy swims Lake Quinsigamond twice—or is it three times?—each day. We hope you never need them, Peg, but anyway here's some water wings. (Keep them for your children!)

Helen Toombs—Helen is another of those quiet misses who seem to flourish in our class. We give you this racket, Helen, so that someone will notice that you are around.

Olive Lutz—Olive is smart, consequently her report cards are always crowded with those illusive A's. Just to see how it feels, we give you this report with all E's. It's only a joke, Olive.

Anna Thompson—There are two males in Anna's life—a boy-friend and her uncle. And what is more difficult, they are so similar in appearance that frequent embarrassing mistakes have been made. In order to eliminate future errors, Anna, we give you these ribbons—tie the blue on the boy-friend and the red on the uncle!

Ruth Eaton—Although she does not need it now, we give Ruth this jar of cold cream so that in future years she may keep that wonderful school-girl complexion.

Helen Lecoeuvre—Helen will study to be a gym teacher. It's a long, tough grind. Perhaps some liniment for your tired muscles would be in order.

Charlotte Mitchell—Charlotte's interest is centered in New York State. This stationery should help you keep in contact with him, Skip.

Donald Mansfield—When Don isn't tinkering on cars at the Garage, he's driving one of his own. In order that Don may have an interesting diversion, I suggest that he become a fire chief like Ed Wynn, and stick to his horse! Here's a horse to practice with, Don.

Charlotte Mitchell.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

On this twenty-fifth day of June, nineteen hundred and thirty-fifth year of our Lord A. D., we the class of 1935, in the Town of Shrewsbury, County of Worcester, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of normal, unimpaired health, perfect judgment, and sound in memory of our long years of confinement, do hereby draw up our last will and testament.

We bequeath the following items after all our debts and expenses have been accounted for:

1. To Mr. Cooke, our high esteemed principal, we bequeath a persicope so he can see around corners and catch up with mischievous students.
2. To Mr. Sturtevant, we donate $1000 to furnish all the fountains with root beer sodas so the parched pupils will not die of thirst during the warmer months.
3. To Miss Shea, we leave two assistants to help her check up on unapproved absences.
4. To Miss Sawin, our careful leader, we bequeath a new set of almanacs so she can prove her statements with argumentative students.
5. To Miss O'Donnell, our kind play coach, we leave our best wishes for another successful production as she coached for us.
6. To the Juniors, we leave our everlasting talent in athletics for another successful year in sports.
7. To the Sophomores we leave each a book on "The Art of Throwing Spitballs."
8. To the Freshmen we leave each a non-glare mirror so they can watch the teacher behind them.

9. To Miss Drinkwine, we bequeath a motorcycle so she can catch up with some of the fast sprinters who have formed the "take a day off" habit.
10. To Miss Larson, we leave a bugle in place of her whistle so some of the feminines will understand her.
11. To Mr. Flynn we bequeath a book on "Moral Punishment" so he will refrain from "Take a lap around the field."
12. To Mr. Bowker, we leave a document permitting him to sell his rare specimen to any certified antique junk collector.
13. To Miss Whipple we leave talented singers so her French classes will sound more pleasing next year.
14. To Miss Lothrop we leave a new stick-proof basket for gum chewers only.
15. To Mr. Paton we bequeath with our highest esteem a Book entitled "Patience with this younger generation."
16. To Miss Prouty we leave a hammer to go with her admired anvil paper weight. Someday it might come in handy to her, with those that find it difficult to learn.
17. To Miss Copeland we bequeath a new revised edition bound in leather, "Is Latin a Dead Language?"
18. To Mr. McGinn we leave money enough to buy new gas jets so he will not go to sleep permanently in the laboratory.
19. To Miss Churchill we bequeath a book named, "Making Contact with Stubborn Seniors" so her next class will be less trying.
20. To Mr. Tosi we leave a search warrant to search every desk in hope of finding the source of the noise of a cow in the study hall.
21. To Miss Downey we leave our knowledge about "Debits and Credits" for future use.
22. To Miss Daley we bequeath a set of signs for each window reading "Do not lean out of the windows!"
23. To Miss Davis we bequeath a shining gold baton to direct her music onward.
24. To Miss Shaffer we leave a meat grinder so hamburgers will be served regularly next year to those who take after Wimpy.
25. To Mr. Carr we bequeath a new automatic lawn mower so he can sit down mowing the lawn, preventing possible sunstroke or collapse.

The following students wish to dispose of their peculiar traits or habits.

1. Olive Lutz, Erna Wenz and other brilliant students leave their talent to who ever wishes to attain honors.
2. Donald Seymour leaves his dancing ability to any lucky Junior boy.
3. Grace "Venus" Forrister leaves her knowledge on culture of the hair to Evelyn Anderson.
4. Michael Shirpoli leaves his athletic ability to Bill Mikilak.
5. Marjorie Hutchinson leaves her wittiness to Marjorie Wilson.
6. John Lever leaves his red hair to Eddie Mason.
7. Fred Haskell leaves his airplane-minded ability to Gene Larabee.
8. Joe Tyan leaves his knowledge of cowpunching and yodeling to Knute Larson.
9. Milliard Smith, "Wheaties," leaves his braininess to Al Daugela.
10. Francis Labby leaves his wavy hair to Tudor Orizzi.
11. Margaret Christie leaves her mellow soothing voice to Estelle Mowry.
12. Bill Segur leaves his argumentative personality to Jimmy Drinkwine.
13. Ellenor Howe, Donald Seymore, Vera Richards, and Wesley Warren leave their vacancies in the orchestra to others who will carry on the musical work.
14. And last but not least the cast of the Senior Play bequeaths its talent to the Junior Class for a successful production next year.

Therefore we, the class of 1935, declare this to be our last will and testament witnessed by the three following individuals:

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE
JULIUS CAESAR
WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

WESLEY WARREN.

CLASS PROPHECY, '35

I received an invitation to the tenth annual banquet of the class of 1935 to be held at the "Dean Park Hotel," Shrewsbury, June 26, 1945, at 8 P. M. Due to the fact that I had been away during the past ten years I had heard from only a few of my classmates, and therefore was more than pleased at the very thought of meeting them again.

Just to be back with "that old gang of mine!" What had they been doing? Had they changed much? Were they still the same "old gang," and a thousand and one other questions were in my mind.

The gala day arrived with all the excitement which I had anticipated. We were first in one huddle and then in another, and it was almost impossible to lure us away even with a large juicy steak. It was so interesting to me that I would like to record some of the outstanding bits of information that I gleaned.

Our delightful dinner was cooked by that well-known chef, "Bil" Sarginas. It was very delicious and "Bill" has learned by experience that a way to a girl's heart is through her stomach, providing she doesn't have indigestion.

Eric Anderson and Eloise O'Brien are now running a joint barber and beauty shop. "Ella" waves the ladies' hair, but Eric takes his cuts.

George Erwin sang for us the never to be forgotten song, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." He has been taking music lessons from Margaret Christie and after several more lessons I'm sure he will be ready for the amateur programs which are under the supervision of Frederick Haskell.

Mildred Beauregard and Shirley Boyce have invented a machine which allows a student to talk only once in every five minutes. They obtained their ideas for this machine through the suggestion of a certain teacher during their last days at Shrewsbury High School.

Grace Forrister is the coach for the Shrewsbury Drama League. While just across the way is Albert Astrella, the director of the home for under-nourished children.

Myrtle Coughlin was there at the banquet with her leading man. The leading man was none other than our dear old Michael Giofreda. They are playing at the Continental Theater in Worcester in the play called "The Wee Hours of the Morning."

Marjorie Duke is still going around in circles. She hasn't decided on any career as yet, but she believes that while there's life there's hope.

Olive Lutz and Vera Richards are living in the southern part of Florida. They travel from town to town teaching the negroes the correct way to speak the negro dialect. Olive says Miss O'Donnell helped her immensely ten years ago during the senior play rehearsals.

At the table right beside me sat my old pal Ellenor Howe, who is now Mrs. ——, well, you guess. While talking with her, I learned that she is directing "Sandy's Hillbilly Orchestra," which is composed of the cow hands now working on their ranch in Minnesota.

Frank Jackson sat at the head of the table, with eyes for no one but Ruth. He is a very successful business man in the motion picture industry, I believe. Ruth seemed calm, lovely and efficient as usual. A brief teaching career and now home cares have weighed lightly on her.

Jean Fletcher is now designing clothes for Carlotta Jenks. Carlotta is known throughout the West as one of the five best dressed women in that region.

Dorothea Greenwood is now operating the hectograph for the Shrewsbury Daily News, whose Editor-in-Chief is none other than Joseph Giumentaro. Lois Lehman is Joe's efficient secretary. Her experience as class secretary is of assistance, I am sure. Evelyn May, Anna Thompson and "Kay" Sheehan are working as columnists for the paper.

The honored guest for the evening was none other than Francis Labby, now Secretary of Labor. I knew "Franny" would accomplish great things as he was always such a hard working boy.

Wesley Warren and Joseph Tyan are street cleaners for the new Commissioner of Public Welfare, "Mike" Scirpoli. They prefer vacuum cleaners to the regular broom as they are more efficient.

Marion Gustafson, Svea Holmes and Mary Mullen are well known directors of a "Charm School." Their lectures on "How to be attractive to the opposite sex," are extremely interesting. I know. I heard one.

Marion Harlow and "Yours Truly" are now working in a little drug store around the corner. They wish to state that, since water is so scare in Shrewsbury, the price has gone up to five cents for every glass.

Gustaf Steinhilber has gone into partnership with John Lever in the manufacturer of "Steinies Make-Em-Plump Baby Food." Gus works out the formula for any new product in his well equipped laboratory. John is the business manager and does the hard work, as usual.

Mary Lorito and Doris Hamel have managed to remain together through these years and now they are running a dance hall for the sub-debutants of Shrewsbury.

Lloyd Lund, the dare devil of the skies, has his own landing field for his monoplane and has lately been seen in the company of a certain "Dark Blond."

Annie Markarian and Irida Mazzari have an exclusive shop on Main Street. Irida models, while "Ann" designs and makes the ladies accessories.

Dr. Virginia Hughes was present at the banquet. Virginia's main office is in Worcester. Dr. Hughes has as her assistant in the office, Charlotte Mitchel. Charlotte holds the patients' hand and recites Virginia's poetry to them so as to take their mind off the pain.

George Powers is happily married. He delivered a welcome speech at the banquet which made us all feel we were back in the dear old school days. George tells me he is an operator of television for Station B-U-Z-Z, Shrewsbury's recently built station.

"Bob" Lehman is living at the rifle range where he spends most of his time repairing clay pigeons.

I was surprised to learn of the famous authors we have now that were graduated with us in '35. First there is Mariorie Reichenbacker who recently wrote, "My Idea of An Ideal Man." Helen Lecoeuvre, who is now a teacher at the LaSalle School for Girls, has written a book entitled "How to Keep Thin."

Jennie Mignacca is now the district nurse and is kept quite busy these days, as Virginia Seager has just obtained her automobile license. Chief-of-Police Clemence Hayes has recently equipped his force with blue and gold uniforms and the force is noted for its efficiency in the maintenance of law and order.

Millard Smith is the coach of Holy Cross College while that certain Miss Toombs—yes, she's still "Miss"—is stil in the background vigorously filling her hope chest.

Evelyn Schold is playing in the skit over the radio called "Little Tessie the Typist." "Ev" says she has received so many fan letters from the male admirers that she "Tanks she vill go home now."

"Bill" Segur got so much fun out of the senior play that he has started a detective agency of his own. He and his partner in crime, Donald Mansfield, are known to most as "Snoop and Peep."

"Peggy" Martin is very happily married and is the president of the "Shrewsbury Womens' Club." "Peg" always did go in rather deep for the social whirl of Shrewsbury.

Donald Henderson is a very prominent statesman but he never is too busy to stop and see that little girl even if it's just to say a sudden "Hello" and "Good-bye."

Malcolm Merrill now occupies the office of a superintendent of schools that he has given Principal William Kane notice that if he doesn't arrive on time he will start giving him a ten per cent cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Hjulstrom were at the banquet and she—I wonder who—still has that love light in her eyes. They came down from Maine, where they are now living, in their new Air-Flow Taxi Cab.

Norman Bates is at the Union Station Information desk. "Norm" is noted for his ability to answer all questions from "Will it rain tomorrow?" to "What is the best thing to clean white shoes with?"

"Joe" Layden has a side show in Boston where he is known as "The Great Tatooed Man from the Wilds of Millbury." Matilda Nowark is in his company and goes by the name of "Tillie, Queen of the Reptiles." As a snake charmer Matilda is a success because of her natural giggle.

Ina Wendela is now living in Denver and is known as the "Lady in Red." She is a great fortune teller, but most folks seem to think that she leaves too much to the imagination.

Congetta Quaranta and Hope Severance are dancing partners and are busy thinking up the latest dance routines. As a hobby they are having a race to see which one can fill her hope chest first.

Donald Seymour has just defeated George Pescaro in the recent Golf Tournament. This means that he receives the Maj. Howard Beal Cup. He is the best golfer that this town has ever known. We have great hopes for him in the future and expect him to be a second Bobby Jones.

Erna Wenz spoke on her latest novel, "The Mystery of the Wooden Leg," which was formerly entitled "Saved by a Sliver." The Memorial Hall was decorated by Erna with flowers from her own greenhouses.

Although it was hard to find out what each of my classmates is doing, as some were so very modest, I believe I have accounted for the original seventy-seven, and I know by 1955 we will have made Shrewsbury even more proud of our class.

Truly, all are continuing to work with the same persistance for which our class was noted during High School days, and all agree that the old class motto, "Truth Conquers," will not be forgotten.

Respectfully submitted,

MARJORIE HUTCHINSON.

CLASS SONG

OUR FAREWELL

TUNE: Old Faithful

Our High School, We gather here together,
Our High School, We meet now but to sever,
For our high-school days are over
And life will not be all clover—
Dear High School, Pals of mine.

Chorus

Carefree days are over when we leave our high school tonight,
Memories will linger and make sad days jolly and bright,
Some day in the future we will meet again
So now merely whisper "auf wiedersehen"—
Dear High School, Pals of mine.

Dear High School, Our farewell we are singing.
Dear High School, The last bell will be ringing.
We will part from here forever—
But dear friends will be together—
For we'll be faithful, Pals of mine.

"To what do you attribute your great age?" asked Joseph L.

"Well, fer the first seventy years of my life they wasn't no automobiles, an' fer the last twenty-five I've been confined to the house," was the prompt reply.

Saving the Paint

Mr. Flynn: "Oi say, Casey, what's the grand idee in paintin' the fence so fast? Ye'll have yerself all tired out before noon."

Casey: "Begorrie, I'm hurryin' up to get it done before the paint gives out."

Coach Flynn: "Forward, march! Company halt! Forward, march! Squads, left! Squads, right! On left into line! By the right flank, march! Halt! Rest, Attention!

Mike Shirpoli: "I will be darned if I'll work for a man who changes his mind so much."

Bill Segur (pleading): "Give a starving man a nickel for a cup o' cawfee, please, Mister?"

Mister: "Sorry, but I've only got a five-dollar bill."

"Bill" (affably): Tha's all right, Mister, I got change."

Logic

"My dear," said Herbie, going through his wife's household accounts, "why bills from four grocers? What's the good of running four different accounts?"

"Well, you see, dear," said Mary, "it makes the bills so much smaller."

Young Wesley was late for Sunday School, and the minister inquired the cause.

"I was going fishing, but father wouldn't let me," announced the lad.

"That's the right kind of a father to have," replied the reverend gentleman.

"Did he explain the reason why he did not let you go?"

"Yes, sir. He said there wasn't bait enough for two."

Most of the family were at the parlor window watching the parade go by. Suddenly the mother turned to the daughter—"Where's your auntie?"

"Upstairs," came the reply, "waving her hair."

"Mercy!" exclaimed the mother, "can't we afford a flag?"

Taking Chances

"What shall we do tonight?" asked a college freshman of his roommate.

"We'll toss for it," was the reply.

"All right," agreed the first. "If it's heads we'll go to a dance; if it's tails we'll take in the movies, and if it stands on edge we'll study."

Ellenor: "How did that naughty little boy of yours get hurt?"

As the tone you use to convey it.
